FAMILY WEEKEND CONFERENCE

SESSION OVERVIEWS - FRIDAY

Main session A: Positive Exposure global albinism photography project - Rick Guidotti

Positive Exposure utilizes photography, film and narrative to transform public perceptions of people living with genetic, physical, intellectual and behavioural differences. Our educational and advocacy programs reach around the globe to promote a more inclusive, compassionate world where differences are celebrated we teach everything that happiness is a choice not a result.

The statistics to support our work are staggering. With one out of five children in the United States born with a disability, the need for society to understand and respect children and adults living with genetic, physical, intellectual and behavioural differences is critical. This fascinating story started with albinism in 1998.

Optional session 1: Basics of Albinism - Jay Self

Ophthalmologist Jay Self will provide a basic overview of albinism for those new to the condition or those requiring a refresher.

Optional session 2: Stress Bucket - Vaijayanti Drumm

What is stress and why does it happen? Managing stress: practical insights, tools and techniques. Early warning signs of stress. Coping strategies

Optional session 3: Visual Impairment and Sensory Processing Disorder – is this what causes ‘Blindism’s’? - Audrey Darby

OT's are specialists in Sensory Processing difficulties, and it has come clear to us over the past number of years that Visual Impairment causes imbalances in the sensory systems, and therefore in smooth sensory processing. This presentation will look at: What is sensory processing?

What is sensory processing disorder in relation to children with a visual impairment? – is this different to ‘Blindisms’ How do we recognise sensory processing disorder?

What can we do to help?

Children who have difficulties in this area will or may act out, seem stubborn, perhaps not listen to instruction, or carry out repetitive behaviours.

Evening session: The Blindfold Challenge – Suzanne Carr

Suzanne Carr of Guide Dogs will oversee a series of fun family activities helping us to understand what sight loss can mean for everyday tasks. Themes will include:

Food: - buttering bread, finding the right tin for dinner, labelling and using other senses (smells). Communication awareness:- Communicating to someone in blindfold to complete a task. Mobility:- Looking at different canes and techniques of sighted guiding. Finding things:- Identifying coins and using the systematic search technique.

SATURDAY MORNING

Main session B: From the lab to the clinic and back – what is the latest in albinism research? – Helena Lee

Currently, there are no treatments for the eye problems seen in albinism. The average vision in albinism at 20/80, is below UK driving standards, which has implications for school, work and social life. This is why finding a treatment that can improve eyesight in albinism, was named as a priority by the Sight Loss and Vision Priority Setting Partnership in 2013.

There is a lot that we do not understand about exactly why eye problems develop in albinism, and why the degree of visual impairment can vary enormously amongst individuals with albinism. The recent revolution in genomics and eye imaging technology has expanded our understanding of this condition and has opened up exciting new possibilities for treatment. In this talk, we will explore what we have learned about albinism and the eye in recent years and how we are using this information to develop new treatments that will improve eyesight in individuals affected by albinism.

Optional session 4: Benefits and you – Charlotte Throssel

An overview of the disability related benefits and how they may affect you and your loved ones. A very flexible session that will give you chance to ask questions.

Optional session 5: Understanding Anxiety - Vaijayanti Drumm

This workshop is aimed at anyone who would like to understand how anxiety issues develop, how it affects our mental and physical health, and ways of managing anxiety more affectively and positively.

- Understanding our anxiety
- Fight or flight
- Breathing techniques
- Negative and Positive thinking

Optional session 6: Getting the most out of UK based & international activities and how VICTA can help – Tracie Tappenden

Come and find out what amazing opportunities VICTA offers to families, children and young people. From life changing experiences to places like Thailand, Sicily, the International Computer Camp in Croatia to sleeping over at the Natural History Museum and our ever-famous family weekends, there is something for everyone. The session will be broken down to include something fun, something sweet and something serious!

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Main Session C: Special Education Needs & EHC Plans – Maria Bloom

Independent Parental Special Education Advice specialist Maria Bloom will provide an overview for parents on how to get the most from the SEN system for their child and how to engage effectively with Education, Care & Health Plans.

Main Session D: Confidence and Assertiveness – Vaijayanti Drumm

This workshop is designed to help individuals who want to be more confident, learn skills to help communicate effectively in the workplace, socially, with family and friends. It is useful for individuals who would like to make changes to their lives, improve self- confidence and self- awareness and take steps on the road to success.

- What is confidence and assertiveness
- Difficulties that arise with lack of confidence
- Behaviour types- passivity, assertion, aggression
- Body Language. Thinking assertively, saying no

Optional session 7: UK, European & Global Perspectives on Albinism –
*Antoine Gliksohn & Robin Spinks

Antoine and Robin will share their perspectives on albinism around the world and Antoine on progress with the development of a European network for the albinism community and how best to engage with it.

Optional session 8: The dance of chance: an interactive way of explaining the pattern of inheritance of OCA1 and OCA2 – Patricia Lund

I will require audience participation! Volunteers welcome please. I would like to encourage young people to attend this session. This fun way of informing us about the inheritance of albinism will no doubt include drums and dancing!

Optional session 9: Understanding Nystagmus & Update – Sue Ricketts

The Fellowship has always had strong connection with Nystagmus Network as nystagmus affects most people with albinism. Sue is welcomed back to provide an understanding of nystagmus and update on developments.

SUNDAYMain Session E: Transport and Mobility Solutions of the Future for persons with Albinism – Robin Spinks & Jamie Chan Pensley

In this thought provoking and interactive session, Jamie and Robin will explore some of the transport and mobility solutions of the future for persons with Albinism.

They'll present an honest and realistic assessment of the rapid progress of Connected Autonomous Vehicles (CAVs) and they'll attempt to answer the when, why and how of self-driving cars drawing upon industry knowledge and experience with a wide range of stakeholders.

The session will also consider the impact and potential for independence from Mobility as a Service and smart ticketing. Also considered will be the impact of wearable technology and personalisation.

Finally, the session will consider the rapid rise of E Bikes and their appropriateness as a safe and sustainable mobility solution for persons with low vision.
